On good authority it is now stated that

Miss Lee Bascom, a young Western actress, and the author of the novel, "A God of Gotham," has written an original American play called "A baughter of Uncle Sam," in an anovel called "Whom the God's Love." The play has been very favorably spoken of. Miss Bascom has also written a curtain-raiser entitled "That Little Jade."

Although Manager Powers, of the New York Baseball Club, has been somewhat indisposed owing to a bad cold, still he has kept in the work of arranging for this season's exhibition games at the Polo Grounds. Manager Powers says: "I will have the boys report for work about April I, and they will be given a good chance to show what they can do. I will have dates arranged with the crack; college teams and other first-class talent. In fact, I have arranged for several of the games already."

The Board of Managers of the Metropolitan Association, of the A.A.U. did some good work hast night at their special meeting, from an Association standpoint at least. They preserved the dignity of the organization by refusing to reinstate the men who willully broke the A.A.U. haw by participating in the recent seventh Regiment games. They did another good thing when they reinstated Jimmy Findiay, the hustling member of the Union Athletic Club. Findiay came very near going over, but was saved in time. His case shows that the best of the amateurs are liable to get plached it they do not keep the rules in mind.

There is considerable likelihood of Brooklyn's Jimmy Carroll and Bob Fitzsimmons meeting at New Orleans. It all rests with Fitz. Carroll is anxious to make a match with the Australian. Fitz does the objectling, but his objections have put him in very bad favor with the New Orleans clubs and he will need to get in the ring before long or lose what reputation he has.
